Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Goodwin and daughter of Clyde, Kansas, are the guests of Mrs. Gertrude Martin.

V. E. Ayers of Barre is in town Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred L. Page of Barre was in town Tuesday and Wednesday visiting relatives.

Mrs. Munroe Barnes and Misses Edwina and Frances of Burlington are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Leavitt.

Mrs. W. F. Fokam of Columbus, Miss., who was visiting at the home of Dr. F. P. Gale, went to New Hampshire Wednesday to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Piny Outler and child of Barre were at Clinton Cutler's the first of the week.

Mrs. Dwight Hollister went to Hardwick Thursday for a few days' stay.

Mrs. H. C. Cutting and son Rudolph are in camp at Graton Pond. Mrs. Elsie Wood and Mrs. Edwin Cutting of St. Johnsbury are also in camp at that place.

A few more hats at reduced prices at the Remis Millinery store.

Miss Julia Blodgett of Cabot was in town Thursday.

The young men of Mrs. Butler Chamberlain Kellogg's Sunday school class were recently entertained at her home and twenty-one were present. Ice cream and cake were served. The social hour was varied by readings given by Prof. Harley Heath, vocal solos by Principal Bert Robinson, piano duets by Duane O'Leary and Mrs. Kellogg, and selections by the male quartette, Messrs. Lane, Hudson, Foster and Hudson.

Mr. Andrew Lawrence has returned to the U. S. mail, at Philadelphia, at the close of his vacation, carrying with him his fine violin, from which he has drawn forth such a variety of excellent music for the enjoyment of his old neighbors and friends while here. Almost every week-day evening a real concert was given at the home of his sister, Mrs. Amanda Batchelder to an overflowing parlor full of delightful music lovers varying in age from less than sixteen to over eighty years, many of them constant attendants. Plainfield hopes to enjoy the like next summer also. Mrs. C. P. Kellogg usually presided at the piano this season, and the "accompaniment" deserved the name. Judge and Mrs. Hall and sons of Boston, Mass., were the guests of Mrs. L. M. Johnson part of this week.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. To-day the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown of Alameda, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure sore lungs, colds and obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, it's the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy. Trial bottle free.

One by Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain, who recently celebrated his 73d birthday, was leaving his home New Year's Eve when he was met by a band of men.
"Are you a deputation?" he asked.
"No, sir," replied one of the men; "we are the wicks. We have been playing here every night for the last two weeks, and now we've come."
"Well," inquired the tariff reform leader, impatiently.
"The fact is, sir, we've come."
"Oh, I see," interposed Mr. Chamberlain, "you've come to apologize."—London News.

ARE YOU WRECHED IN BAD WEATHER?

Keeping the Kidneys Well Has Kept Many Barre People Well.

Many Barre people find that bad weather brings on a dull pain in the back, or rheumatic aching, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and weakness. If, when you get wet or take cold, it "settles on the kidneys," and there is a shivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness, which is often the beginning of disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the chilly feeling is gone, and the flow of urine is natural. Doan's Kidney Pills have saved Barre people much suffering.

W. W. McAuley, 157 Seminary street, Barre, Vt., says: "I took all kinds of medicine supposed to be good for kidney trouble, but did not find relief. The pain in my left kidney was severe. I could not sleep to pick up anything without having sharp twinges in the small of my back. I was very restless at night and arose in the morning feeling tired and miserable. Damp weather always made me worse and finally I became so bad, I could only walk a short distance. It was then I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from E. A. Drown's drug store. They helped me from the first, relieving the backache and strengthening my kidneys. I used in all three boxes and can honestly say that I have never taken a remedy that benefited me so greatly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

He was a lean, long, lanky fellow with complexion as brown as a berry and an eye as blue as the summer skies. Any one looking at him for the first time could hardly have failed to guess that he came from that section of the country where mother's pies are as good and, therefore, as popular as they ever were, and as he entered the hotel and plunked his carpet bag on the counter the clerk winked at the other fellows about the office, as much as to say, "watch me dangle the Red!"

"Good morning, sir," he said politely.

"Morning," said the farmer. "Got a place where a fellow can sleep here?"

"Yes, I guess so," said the clerk. "Do you want a room with a bath?"

"What I want," said the farmer, "is that depends. If your rooms is no all-fired dirty they need a bath, I reckon I do."—Harper's Weekly.

DR. WILEY GIVES DIET INSTRUCTIONS

Eat Sparingly During Hot Weather But Eat Whatever You Have Been in The Habit of Eating.

Washington, July 24.—"Eat anything that you ordinarily eat, but do not eat so much of it. Don't take up any vegetable or other foods during hot weather."

These are the two most important rules laid down by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, for table use in hot weather.

"I would add to those," continued the famous food expert, "advice against the frequent use of ice water when you are warm. You have heard the old adage—"

"Full many a man both young and old"

Has gone to his sarcophagus By pouring water icy cold."

"Well there is more truth than poetry in that rhyme. The soft drink habit is to be deplored also. In our investigations of soda fountain drinks we found more than 100 beverages add over the counter to the public contained caffeine."

If our children are to be allowed to take caffeine into their systems, it is best that they should get it at home in the form of tea and coffee. But thousands of parents who would not think of allowing their little boys and girls have either tea or coffee will give them money every day and several times a day in hot weather to run to the soda fountain at the corner drug store where they become victims of the caffeine habit."

"I consider the washing of fruits and vegetables, especially those that are to be eaten raw, of the greatest importance at all times of the year, and especially during the summer. Every head of lettuce, every radish, every apple and pear and berry that we buy at the market carries in from the field millions upon millions of microbes upon its surface. All such vegetables that have been fertilized with stable manure are especially dangerous. If I had my way about it, manure should never be used for fertilizing any vegetable except the grains and cereals which are harvested far above the ground in which they grow. The green apple which has some internal rot is supposed to give the rot to the whole apple, and it really is as generally believed. The microbes on the skin of the apple, in all probability cause the trouble. The chances are that not more than one boy in a hundred who eats green apples ever gets the sore anyway. I think it is largely a myth."

"As the human frame does not need so much food to maintain heat during the summer time as during the colder months, it is only reasonable to reduce the amount of food taken into the stomach. I have no use for a vegetarian, fruitarian and other fads. The human system was built for a mixed diet."

WHITE SLAVES IN CANAL ZONE.

The Police Ask Action Against The Traffic.

New York, July 24.—A plea for the stopping of the "white slave" traffic between the United States and the Canal Zone is contained in a letter from Second Lieutenant C. W. Barber of the Second United States Infantry, the assistant chief of police of the Canal Zone which was given out yesterday by the local police. Writing to former Police Commissioner Dingham, Lieutenant Barber declares that many American girls, especially actresses, have been lured to Panama and that "the life they lead there would make your heart bleed."

The letter tells the story of three chorus girls, the writer says, who were lured to Panama on the promise of an engagement in a local playhouse, and who were saved by the captain of the steamer Tug, who took them down.

The girls met for the first time on board the steamer. When their story reached the captain he took them in charge, and saw that they were brought back to New York. The women who, it is alleged, engaged them to come to Panama, were arrested. Later she escaped, but detectives sent by the New York police arrested her at Georgetown on July 10, the police say, under the name of Spencer. The police will meet the steamer Alliance, due here from Panama tomorrow, to ascertain if the woman calling herself "Helen Spencer" who, a wireless message last night said, had vainly attempted suicide on board, is the woman of that name now being brought back from Panama by two New York detectives.

IDLENESS BREED BY THE PARKS.

Statement in Report of Local Inspector For Federal Information Bureau.

Washington, July 24.—The recent business depression had a demoralizing effect on certain classes of laborers, according to C. L. Green, inspector in charge of the New York City branch of the division of information of the department of commerce and labor, who yesterday submitted his report for the six months ending June 30 last to T. V. Powderly, chief of the division.

"Enforced idleness during this period caused them to resort to every known device to live without employment," the inspector declares, referring to a type of the erstwhile workmen. "Finding it possible to exist, idleness seems to have become a habit, and now the parks are pleasant and the fields hot, they prefer to enjoy the former—living as best they can."

Inspector Green makes it plain, however, that he does not mean, by the foregoing statement, to say or imply that he refers to all persons—only to certain classes.

The report shows that during the fiscal year just closed 3,512 men secured employment in the various parks during the last six months. Of late a marked improvement occurred in the quality, though there was a falling off in the number of men applying for information, and the percentage of applicants directed to employment has materially increased for these reasons.

GROTON

Dr. H. H. Lee of Wells River was in town Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Alvord of Hartford, Conn., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Darling.

Mrs. Clara Parks has purchased of H. L. Gilman a small plot of land near her house.

R. S. Hooper of Hardwick has been in town several days this week. While here he sold his pasture and timber land known as the Hooper place, to David Whitehill. Consideration $1,000.

Jack Butterfield, Ernest Bowen and Everett Sawyer of East Corinth were in town Wednesday and went to Lake Groton camping.

R. N. Darling, Dr. G. C. Cowan, M. D. Coffrin, B. S. Eastman, Rev. P. A. Smith, Lee S. Blanchard, Robert Davidson and E. F. Clark attended a special meeting of Mt. Lebanon, Chapter No. 13, held at Wells River, Thursday evening.

Repairs have been commenced on the Methodist church. A slate roof is being laid, the work being done by slaters from Pontine. Next month a steel ceiling will be put on and other repairs made upon the interior.

Helen Welch is in town, having disposed of her property at Watap, Washington, and has come East to locate, either in Vermont or New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Towne who are visiting here have been at Peacham this week visiting the old home of Mrs. Towne.

Laurel Temple, No. 4, Pythian Sisters, entertained twenty-two Sisters from Unity Temple, Woodville, N. H., at the regular meeting Tuesday evening.

The work was exemplified upon one candidate, after which a banquet was served, and all enjoyed the social hour which followed.

HELD DINNER PARTY.

Gathering at St. Johnsbury in Honor of Attleboro, Mass. Woman.

St. Johnsbury, July 24.—The Octagon, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Staples, was the scene of a happy gathering Thursday in honor of their aunt, Mrs. Sarah Harrington of South Attleboro, Mass. The affair took the form of a 12 o'clock dinner party and around the table was grouped a party of "school girls" who had not met for fifty years. In early girlhood they were schoolmates in the little village of East St. Johnsbury, and the reunion Wednesday, was the first since their separation. It was fraught with happiness, and yet in the interval of years, all have married, and all with one exception, that of Mrs. Harrington, have been widowed.

Following the sumptuous six-course dinner, which was presided over by Mrs. Staples and her sister, Mrs. Walter Hubbard of Washington, D. C., the group was photographed, and the remainder of the afternoon passed in recalling early days. Those present at the happy affair were: Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Luella Lewis of Concord, Mrs. Sophronia Severance of East St. Johnsbury, Mrs. Henrietta Goodall, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman and Mrs. Fannie Parkhurst of St. Johnsbury. Two members of this attractive body of "girls" who fifty years ago were the belles of all the countryside, were unable to be present. They were Miss Mary Beral of Fargo, S. D. and Miss Charlotte Borelli, secretary of Delphi academy, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Of the little group, Mrs. Harrington is the oldest but by no means the least active. She is 74, Mrs. Lewis, who is 60, is the youngest. Another guest of honor at the affair, and one who received no little attention was the 4-year-old grand nephew of Mrs. Harrington, Richard Hubbard, of Washington, D. C.

WOMEN AS SOLDIERS.

They Were Once Reckoned a Fighting Strength—Mythical Amazonas.

From the nature of things women soldiers can only be found as a class among barbarians—up to this time at any rate. The Dahomy Amazons made a poor show against the French, but Burton had been much impressed with them forty years earlier—and he was a judge. The discipline was terribly severe in his time; he did not doubt they were very formidable troops. Relaxation of discipline ruined them.

The mythical Amazonas claim a world, since Professor Sayce adduced such striking evidence to suggest that they were the warrior priestesses of Hittite invaders. Of the American Amazonas it may be recalled that Humboldt thought the legend not impossible; and he had studied the original records. Very few who have written on the subject are thus qualified probably, but Mr. Alfred Wallace has shown us lately that Spruce the great botanist, looked into the evidence carefully and formed a strong opinion that it was trustworthy.

Much more interesting are the shield maidens of the Vikings. Would that we knew more about them personally. All historical sagas allude to them, but all ways, so far as I remember, in a matter of fact way, as to male personages. One of the very grandest poetic sagas is that of the Shield Maiden Harvor, but even this takes for granted nearly everything we particularly want to know. She dressed as a man and joined the Vikings. Presently she gained the command of her party—and the story opens, true in the main probably.

The circumstantial account of the battle of Bravoll between Sigurd of Denmark and Harald Hilditund of Norway mentions several shield maidens who commanded troops. One even bore Harald's standard. All fought like heroes, or demons, and I think all died on the field; but it seems that they were only women who rose to command by daring and military genius. Is there any authority for the legends of Viking bands wholly feminine?

The old Irish "Book of Leacan" says casually "for men and women went alike to battle in those days;" and the record of tribal obligations called "hosting" reckoned women among the fighting strength. Moreover, the life of Abbot Adamnan of Iona tells how he, hearing of this dreadful practice, went to Ireland called an assembly of chiefs and bishops and persuaded them to pass a law, still extant, entitled "Lex Innocentium," which forbade the arming of women to war. It seems likely, however, that they still turned out of their own free will—indefatigable the practice is not yet extinct, by all accounts.

At the present day, in Europe, the Montenegris and their hereditary foes of Albania include the women among their fighting force—or did at any rate a few very years ago—before Prince Nicholas had organized his army. All departments of supply were left to the wives and daughters; also the recovery and transport of the wounded. But when the fighting line was seriously pressed the women re-entered it. Assuredly they would have followed the old custom, in spite of the prince's reforms, had Austria advanced into the Balkan Mountains the other day.—From Pall Mall Gazette.

Going Some.

"My uncle used to smoke his pipe and blow smoke rings that would float across the room and ring the door knob."

"My uncle," said the other liar, dreamily, "used to blow some that would ring the door bell."—Puck.
